These statistics tell us that on average 51 people consulted the website every day in 2013, with the highest viewing in June at 61 a day, followed by September and December, both 60 a day. The lowest daily average was 41 in January.

From an operational point of view there is nothing unusual to report for 2013.

At a recent Communications Group meeting it was suggested that it is time for our website, which is now over 10 years old, to have a facelift. This needs to happen at low or no cost and without loss of functionality. If you have an opinion on this please air it at the AGM or by email at any time to webmaster@anglican.lu.

Thanks are due as usual to Maina Rusere and Cherry Kent for their help during the webmaster's absences.
