Lumen Magazine Editor's AGM Report 2015-2016

Over the past year the frequency of publication has stabilized at four, coinciding with the four seasons. The format continues as A5, with a full-colour cover. Print-run is 290 copies produced by Imprimerie Unijep in Strassen, and distributed by the Church Office by post to Church members.

Since the departure of Patrick and Claudia Granger last Spring, the magazine has been put together by the sole editor, with proof-reading services kindly provided by Chris Vaudrey and Philippa Seymour.

- Average extent is 20 pages;
- Standard items: Dear Friends, Announcements, Church Council news, Introducing [a new person or family], List of contact people;
- Past issues are accessible via the Church website's Links at anglican.lu;
- Francophone correspondent still sought, to report on local church events, such as TheoBar;
- Seasonal articles, photos, poems and stories in electronic form—particularly from young people—are always welcome.
- E-mail the Editor on mag.editor@anglican.lu.
