

The Anglican Church of Luxembourg

Lumen Magazine AGM Report for 2017-2018

- The magazine continues to come out four times a year. You can read and download past issues on the website at anglican.lu.
- During the year we continued to use OnlinePrinters.com, except for the Autumn issue: this was produced as an electronic edition distributed only by email, in an experiment to cut costs (about €600 per issue including postage) and improve sustainability. However, the Church Council decided to revert to paper for subsequent issues, reserving email for overseas subscribers.
- Contributions in the form of
 1. text (ideally in 12 pt Times Roman, as Word or OpenOffice documents) and
 2. photos (jpeg files), free of copyright and with the consent of people depicted, are always welcome; for theme and deadline, please see pew-sheets.

Ideas, particularly for more visuals and for the young people's page, would be appreciated.

Portrait-format cover photos with a seasonal theme are always gratefully received in the form of jpeg files.

- Contributions, constructive comment and offers to help proof-read are very welcome. Write to mag.editor@anglican.lu.

Edward Seymour
Editor
April 2018